

Introduction

It seems like all 2nd generation CR-Vs, look alike, particularly silver ones. Fancy grilles can run you $35 to $300 . . . but if you want that painted bumper feel without going through all the trouble, you can try a painted grille.

As Jeff Foxworthy said: "Say it with Krylon"

In this case, I said it with RustOleum.

Section 1 – The steps

- 1) Clean it
- 2) Tape it
- 3) Prime it
- 4) Paint it
- 5) Let it dry

Not much here; you can find directions, better than anything I can come up with on the web for painting plastic bumpers and grilles. They will probably last you longer than my job will.

Section 2 – Pictures (that's why you came here)
